Our network, for you.

About

Engine Shed is the University of Bristol's flagship innovation hub, located in the Temple Quarter Enterprise Zone.

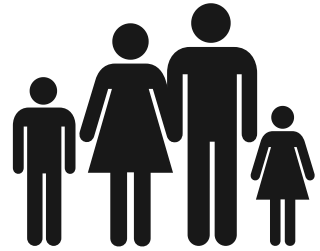

Launched in 2013, we exist to drive innovation in Bristol and the West of England that can have a positive impact to improve our world.

We welcome startups, industry, academics, government and community organisations to our innovation hub, where we provide office and coworking space, membership, training, events and access to our network.

Our door is open to all sectors. We believe our strength is in our differences, and in working together for an outcome greater than our own.
